“ Mommy, looking back at our family a lot of things have changed. I didn't care much about the importance of family and I took a lot of things for granted. I took you for granted. You had a difficult life and I know you did the very best you could. I see that now. I will always cherish the good times we had and all the funny things you did. I know your at peace now and you are with Daddy, Dawn, and most important God. Please watch over me. I only wish I could have held you one last time to tell you how much I love you. I will miss you terribly. Love your daughter Renee. XoXo
