Marge and I became friends because our daughters were friends. But even after the girls were gone our relationship continued. We had dinner out every 3-4 months. That was when we got to share things about ourselves with each other. I never had to ask her where she wanted to go because there was no place she enjoyed having dinner more than Yesterday's Restaurant. We would walk in, they always said hello to her because they knew her, and Marge would immediately say what was on her mind: "Can we have a booth?" We would then order drinks, sip them and chat, and then begin the routine - mussels, salad and usually blackened salmon. While she was still working she always brought half her dinner home for the next day's lunch at school. This was the routine for years and I looked forward to it. During Covid we talked on the phone but we never did get to have another dinner at Yesterday's. What makes me really sad is that I was thinking about her days before the sad news and I just hadn't gotten to make the call. I will always regret that I didn't get to speak to her one last time. Rest in Peace, Marge. You will be missed.

I still can't believe you are really gone. I have looked out over at your house since this happened still thinking you be coming out. You have been through so much in your life especially losing Kelly and Tony. You handled it all with such courage and strength. I will miss all our phone calls where we would laugh and talk mostly about our children and so many other things. Actually your phone number was first on my phone so I could reach out without dialing it. Rest in peace and I hope you will now be reunited with Tony and Kelly. I will cherish our memories forever.

Thinking of you Marge and all the wonderful things you did for Kelly, our clients and staff at LADACIN. No one would ever doubt all the love and dedication you put into your time with us. This was never an easy job, being a parent of a child with a disability even harder but somehow you made it look easy. All you had to do was spread love and that is what you did. We shared many stories about our times in Hazlet, you with your girls and me with my boys. We both agreed that our family and our grandchildren were our biggest gift. Rest in peace Marge and give Kelly a big kiss from all of us at LADACIN.
